

KELVERIANA

In one of its future numbers Explorations will devote some space to the volume edited by Ken Dutton under the title Kelver Hartley: A Memoir (Callaghan, The Hartley Bequest Program, University of Newcastle, 1995). At the moment when the present issue was going to press news reached us of "the first title to be published in a series known as Kelveriana, to consist of works written by Hartley or of relevance to his work and interests". This is a novel Hartley left in manuscript when he died in 1988. As The Haunting of Dr McCuaig it can be purchased from Boombana Publications (P.O. Box 118, Mount Nebo, Queensland 4520) for $17.95. Anyone interested in this or other volumes in the series should also write to Professor K. R. Dutton, Director, Hartley Bequest Program, Department of Modern Languages, The University of Newcastle, N.S.W. 2308.
